

Roof Moisture Surveys, Evaluations and Testing

SOPREMA® does not perform, or require evidence of roof moisture surveys, leak testing or other roof integrity testing as a condition of acceptance to issue a SOPREMA warranty.

Nevertheless roof moisture surveys, leak tests, uplift tests and other integrity tests are encouraged as needed for the contractor to evaluate conditions. SOPREMA may request a copy of the findings.

It is important that potential hidden conditions be thoroughly evaluated during construction. The contractor is responsible for examining existing roof substrates throughout construction to ensure conditions are acceptable.

Roof conditions evaluated well in advance of the construction may not be reliable once construction is finally completed. Likewise, once construction is completed, moisture surveys, flood tests or other integrity testing may provide useful information for the contractor, but it does not guarantee a warranty issue by SOPREMA.. The SOPREMA warranty is issued upon satisfactory completion and review by SOPREMA..
